PORTABLE TRESSES.

There was a giddy girl
And she had a giddy curl
Right in the middle of her forehead;

But when she went to bed,
I've often heard it said,
She hung it up by the bedstead.
—Portsmouth Times.

ILLITERACY.

Ignorance is truly to be deprecated. Too much praise and encouragement can not be given to those who are making a concerted effort to dispel the cloud of illiteracy and bring joy and sunshine to so many. Illiteracy is the bane of the usefulness of the world. If the mind is cultivated, instructed even in the rudiments (reading, writing and simple arithmetic) of an education, the foundation is laid for a higher education. With all the present avenues to acquire information and knowledge it is unparalleled in any one, with the corner stone laid, that they do not build well. Some of the brightest minds and intellects have started life with a meager education. But with laudable ambition, honesty, sobriety and industry, have risen to positions of honor, trust and responsibility, doing honor to the God that created them with a mind. They have been leaders of men and power for good. There never has been in any age such a demand for men and women who know something—not necessarily a college education, but those who know their simple lessons well and were determined to learn more. The absence of illiteracy elevates mankind. It puts one on a higher plane of usefulness. In any business, socially, politically or religiously. To those who have been specially favored, let them realize the responsibility of their blessings. Not only as they have opportunity to do good but let them seek opportunity.

Kaiser Says Calais Must Be Taken

Russians Routed in Poland and Prospects Again Look Dark For Allies

London, November 23.—Desperate fighting in Russian Poland, but without details as to the outcome, and a resumption of similar activity in West Flanders, are the outstanding features today in the areas of military operation.

The Harry caused by the attack of British aviators on the Zeppelin headquarters at Friedrichshafen has not yet subsided, and the amount of comment on this incident appearing in both the German and the English press seems to be out of all proportion to the real damage inflicted.

From Germany there come reports of feverish activity in the construction of warships, as well as in the manufacture of Zeppelin airships.

The opinion prevails that Germany is not able to compete with Great Britain in the construction of battleships. Consequently she is devoting greater energy to the building of an air fleet. Naval construction takes relatively less and place.

Both sides continue to be silent concerning the progress of the great battle in Poland, but Berlin is confident that Gen. Von Hindenburg will justify his reputation as the most successful of the German generals.

Emperor William to Return to Berlin.

London.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from The Hague, says Emperor William has decided to return to Berlin shortly to be present when the Reichstag opens. The correspondent adds that instructions have been issued to the officials of the emperor's Berlin castle to prepare it for a long sojourn there by him.

Officers and 887 Men Lost On Good Hope.

London.—A casualty list giving the names of men lost on board the British cruiser Good Hope, which was sunk November 1 in the battle off Chile with German cruisers, shows that the crew, exclusive of officers, aggregated 887 men.

40,000 Must Leave Homes.

London, November 23 (1:55 a. m.)—Telegraphing from Rotterdam today, the Daily Telegraph's correspondent says: "The military authorities have ordered all the inhabitants, aggregated nearly 40,000, of St. Nicholas, an important railway junction southwest of Antwerp, to leave the city forthwith, affording them accommodations in empty houses in Antwerp."

Calais Must Be Taken Regardless of Life.

Flanders, November 23.—An assembling of German forces is under way for a final desperate attack on the Calais defenses.

The Kaiser has issued orders that Calais must be taken without regard to loss of life. For political as well as strategic reasons, it has been determined the German positions in Belgium and the north of France can not willingly be surrendered. The spirits of the Germans, it is declared, would fall too low in such an event and even revolution might follow.

THREE CHILDREN LOSE LIVES IN FLAMES.

Houstonville, Ky., November 23.—The home of B. B. Watkins, in Cusey county, was burned today, and two children cremated.

Dies of Burns.

Paris, Ky., November 23.—Mason Bayless Adair, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Adair, died last night of injuries received about ten days ago when the little fellow's clothing became ignited from an open grate.

IT WAS A LITTLE BABY PIG.

"This little pig went to the Pastime market."

Last night at the Pastime theater there was a jamming and jolly crowd, drawn there by the "real, live baby" advertised to be given away. It was given away, all right, and the lucky ticket was held by Miss Lucy Willett, who had to sign a bond a yard long, full of promises to "love, honor, cherish and provide well for said baby."

It proved to be a little black porker and the kids yelled to heat the band.

AMERICANS EVACUATE MEXICO

Vera Cruz, November 23.—The American forces of occupation, General Fredrick Funston's expeditionary brigade, numbering something over 6,000 men, evacuated Vera Cruz in four hours' time. The first outpost was withdrawn from Los Cores at 10 o'clock. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the last of the transports loaded with the American soldiers cast off its line at the wharf.

On the heels of the American troops the Carranzista army of occupation, under Generals Aguilar and Magres entered the town, 8,000 strong.

SENATOR MARK SMITH AS A HIGH FINANCIER.

Senator Marcus A. Smith, of Arizona, takes great pride in the means by which he built up a line of credit back in the days when he was a struggling young lawyer in Tucson.

Shortly after he began living in Tucson, Smith fell in with a pleasant chap from Boston named Stebbins, and another man named Charles Leach, from whom he could borrow money, and by that means he contrived to live until he could get a toe-hold in his profession. He would borrow $100 from Stebbins and promise to pay him back on the first of the month. When the debt was due he went to Leach and borrowed enough to pay off Stebbins and square his board bill. The next time he would get money from Stebbins to pay Leach, and so on. He never failed to pay promptly on the first day of the month, and in that way established a great line of credit. He could borrow almost any amount from either Stebbins or Leach. After his law practice gave him enough to run by his own steam, and he no longer needed to borrow, he still kept on borrowing from Leach and Stebbins for several years and paying them back right on the dot. Why did he do it? Simply for the purpose of advertising his credit.—Sunday Magazine.

GET ABOARD!

Buy a bale of cotton.
Give the railroads a lift.
Let big business grow bigger and help it to grow.
Give the bankers fair play and see what they will do for prosperity.

Help restore the American flag to the seas. Stop the foolish outcry against a ship subsidy.
Let everybody demand constructive and oppose destructive legislation.

Invite the elder statesmen, wise and experienced, to occupy the front seats and turn the demagogues out.

Stop the senseless denunciation of the cotton, grain and stock exchanges. Keep our markets open to business all the time.

Don't regulate everything to death. Let there be a genuine "New Freedom" for our captains of industry, men of brains, push and power.

Concede a living wage for every workman; a living price for every crop and for every manufactured commodity; a living rate for every railroad and a living return for every investment, with favors for none and fair treatment for all.
Let everybody get aboard the Broad Gauge Prosperity Wagon, and turn on the gas!—Leslie's.

THE STUMBLING BLOCK.

Public opinion, when properly informed, will not tolerate the continuance of the present program when it realizes that such a course will handicap this country in its competition with other nations whose policies are the reverse of ours. In order to establish a theoretical "new freedom," it does not seem to me that we should be compelled to sacrifice our business progress, surrender our rights as business men, and be forced to delegate the control of our own affairs into the hands of government appointees.—Arthur Reynolds, President American Bankers' Association.

DRUGS OF ALL KINDS TAXED, PATENT MEDICINES EXEMPT.

Complaint is made by the brewers, distillers and druggists that they have to pay all the so-called war tax. Some of the local druggists say they had nothing to do with the making of the war and don't see why they should be compelled to help pay its expenses. Drugs of all kinds are taxed by way of stamps, but strangely enough, patent medicines are exempt.

PROSPERITY WAVE HITS MANY PLACES.

Reports received from business men, firms, corporations and boards of trade from all over the country indicate that business sentiment is becoming more optimistic. From many sections reports have been received that mills are running night and day, while business houses report a considerable increase in sales for October and the present month.

JUST FOR A FIGHT.

The Bedouins, who are reported to be rising against the British at Aden, are not necessarily in sympathy with the Turks. They are of the temper of the Irish gentleman who asked his daughter to look into the street and see if the noise proceeded from a fight, for if it did he wished to get into it.—Courier-Journal.

CONVINCING ARGUMENT.

Many theories as to the workableness of the Federal reserve system would be more convincing if the theories could merely show change for a dollar.—Washington Post.

TWIN DESTROYERS.

At this time of the year the defective line and the coal oil can used to start the kitchen fire are neck and neck as destroyers of property.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

THE RULE OF LIFE.

General Joffre's "you must be prepared to die rather than yield ground," applies to many situations besides those in the trenches.—Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

HOPE FOR BOSTON.

Singapore Chinamen having decided to abandon the practice of worshipping their ancestors, there may be some hope for Boston yet.—Columbia State.

AN ANIMATED PICTURE.

THAT REPUBLICAN LANDSLIDE.

The Republican landslide is the more inexplicable because Mr. Bryan took so little part in the campaign.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A POINTER TO DOCTORS.

Wonder if it ever occurred to doctors searching for a foot and mouth disease serum to tap a politician?—Washington Post.

CONSCIENTIOUS.

Mistress—Don't you ever sweep under the carpet?
Housemaid—Yes, ma'am; I always sweeps everything under the carpet.—Answers.

HE HAD.

Have you ever thought seriously of marriage?
I have ever since I got married, a month ago.

AND SUCCEEDING.

"Why is a merchant who does not advertise like a man in a rowboat?" asked the student.
"Keeps going backward," guessed his friend.
"No; he's trying to get along without sales," said the student.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

SURE HE HAD.

Have you ever longed to fly?
Certainly; I'm married the same as you.

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF

Which Is Better—Try An Experiment or Profit by a Maysville Citizen's Experience.

Something new is an experiment. Must be proved to be as represented. The statement of a manufacturer is not convincing proof of merit.

But the endorsement of friends is. Now supposing you had a bad back, A lame, weak, or aching one, Would you experiment on it? You will read of many so-called cures.

Endorsed by strangers from faraway places. It's different when the endorsement comes from home.

Easy to prove local testimony. Read this Maysville case: M. C. Chisholm, 317 E. Second St., Maysville, Ky., says: "There was a time when my kidneys were badly disordered and I was annoyed by many symptoms of kidney complaint. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Wood & Son's Drug Store, removed the trouble and good health since then is evidence of merit. I have seen many other men's Kidney Pills have my former endorse still holds good." "I don't say remedy—get the same that Mr. Chisholm used."—Maysville, Ky.

REAL DEMOCRACY

The Masses of the People Should Have More of a Voice and a Vote in the Conduct of Public Affairs.

Victor Hugo, with all his profound erudition, seemingly could not draw the line of demarcation between the civilized barbarians and the barbarians of civilization. What's the use of trying? Fact is, our entire social order rests on the pillars of savagery. Our modern civilization is a vast and magnificent structure of crime, built on the ruins of the world's miserable toil. What else can you expect when an inhumanity growing out of competitive strife through the marts of trade, together with their invidious distinctions, become the germs from which are bred wars the most fearful?

The invention of man all these passing years to devise something that will destroy as many lives as possible in a given time and distance seems to have reached its climax, when we read of the up-to-date death-dealing inventions now used by the warring nations of Europe; and whoever wins it will be by superior skill—so much so that personal bravery, physical prowess and such like count practically nothing; it is the science of warfare, and above all, the science of artillery. The Krupp mortar, so far the most powerful, destructive thing known to science, is a monster in size rests on a concrete foundation and almost a miracle in effectiveness. Each shell costs $2,500. Costs enough, don't you think? This shell is the largest and most dangerous yet devised; inside are enough explosives to blow up a town. Fortifications of Liege, Namur and Mauberg, considered the most impregnable, collapsed before the fire of these guns, the slogan of the gunners being, "One shot for one fort." One shell fired at a Belgian fort pierced three thick walls and buried itself in a fourth, where for a few seconds it lay as if gathering demoniacal strength, then burst like a volcano, leaving not one stone on another and burying many bodies under a mass of ruins. And so we might go on through a long chapter. Missiles of destruction hurled from above and hidden mines in the bosom of the deep that spare not even the peaceful merchantman. Our modern munsketry, with its smokeless powder and capable of shooting miles can mow down advancing lines of the enemy.

From all of this we should all learn a lesson. Of course, we all want peace. So did people who are now fighting, and it is likely if the matter had been put to popular vote they would have voted the war lords. They were not consulted at all; they were simply carried off their feet. Human life is cheap; investments are sacred.

We have here the conditions that breed war. What's the sense of praying for peace and at the same time contributing of our substance to keep the war going? It is proper we should relieve sufferings of those impoverished by it, but wrong to afford supplies and munitions to enable the peasants to de-your each other. And more important still, the matter of declaring war should be decided by popular vote in every nation. Just now a limited number of men, lording it over us free Americans, can plunge the nation into war, even for their own selfish ends; and as long as this is so we are not on the safe side.

Don't you think this is an issue of far greater moment than that of the superficial ones that recently have turned the Leads of a great many people?—Levinah Jingle in Oxford, O., Herald.

THE GUY AT THE CRANK.

Did you ever go to a picture show
To sit in the dark and stare,
And wonder how in creation
The pictures got up there?
It isn't the soft, slick manager
Whom you've got to thank;
It's the half-baked, oily son-of-a-gun
Who cusses and twists the crank.

He goes to his little two by four,
You lined like a prison cell;
He starts to make the film chase through,
And soon it's hotter than—well,
You talk of the steamship stoker,
And the heat of his fire bank,
But the stoker's dream is like ice cream.

To the clump who turns the crank.

To the picture show is where you go
To sit in the dark and stare;
You forget there's another world out side
When you're snugly seated there;
You watch the actors play their parts;
To you it is all a dream,
But it's very real to the guy at the wheel.

Of the picture-show machine.
Oh, where do operators go
When they leave this vale of tears?
Is there some cool place in celestial space
Where they pass their after years?
Or do they mingle with the throng
Where sulphurous fumes are dank,
And "Old Nick," when the flames are thick Shout: "They, there, twist the crank?"

—Ernest Hade.

The government has sent a carload of fish to the San Francisco Exposition. We might pull a wheeze about a lot of other suckers getting there before another year rolls around, but we positively decline to do so.

The wintry weather in the war zone may turn the armies into merry brigades—they'll be doing a kindness by putting each other out of their misery. That's one way of looking at it.

A LITTLE PIECE OF LAND.

"Prof. Hodge, of the University of Oregon, says that any child can have $1,000 saved up by the time he is 21, if he is given a piece of land 50 feet square, and gets the right sort of instruction and encouragement in using the land. He tells of his own little girl making $250 out of a back yard garden patch last year." After making this statement, the Ohio State Journal declares that "this is a feature of education that is too much neglected. It gives the child a chance to start his life with a little capital in money, but what he gets in character and diligence and honest purpose exceeds the dollars a hundred times over."

The conclusions of the Ohio State Journal must strike all as being apt and correct in every respect. Too many modern boys daily evidence the lack of the training that comes from the performance of the daily task or chore that has done so much to form the character and give stamina to the real men of today. As has been said before in these columns, "Satan still finds some mischief for idle hands to do," and the modern clamor for a juvenile court to deal with juvenile offenders, is mainly a court called into commission to deal with the inevitable consequences of juvenile idleness.

Again we quote the observations of the Ohio State Journal: "A child who takes a 50 by 50 tract of land for a series of years, works diligently at it, produces crops of vegetables and berries, and lays up a few dollars for a starting fund, achieves more good for himself than he would get out of an ordinary college course."

We do not intend to disparage the college course, but unless there is a good solid foundation of character and self-help upon which to rear a college course, the time spent at higher institutions of learning, something that costs considerably, is apt to prove ineffective, and has resulted in many cases in doing more harm than good. College graduates who come back from higher institutions of learning with ideas of their mental and estate superiority, and who look upon honest labor as a menial occupation at the same time that they consider nothing, but soft, easy jobs suited to their status and rank, have received almost irreparable damage to themselves and are not very useful members of the community that must support them.

But, how to get this 2,500 square feet of land for the boy? In the country, such a tract can easily be laid aside for him and he will learn to love the farm and be less inclined to hunt the town when he grows up if he learns that there is money in it for him by sticking to the land. Right at this point lies the solution of the "back-to-the-farm" movement, which will solve itself when in place of the back-to-the-farm movement there is substituted the "stick-to-the-farm" movement. Those who go back to the farm too often have been misled for the farm by the overrating and other distractions of town life.

But how about the city child? where is he to get his 2,500 square feet of land upon which to make his little savings and to build up his health, strength and character? How is the boy in the apartment house or in the tenement to get his quota of land? Of all boys, this is the boy who needs it most. He needs it because of its money value and he needs it because the street is his only playground and his environment subtly and powerfully directs his steps toward those things that demand the establishment of juvenile courts.

There is only one way by which the city boy can be provided with employment.

HOW TO SUCCEED

During the last few years, conditions in all lines of business, even professional life, have changed so completely that every man is waking up to the fact that in order to win success he must specialize and learn to do some one thing and do it well.

So it is with any article that is sold to the people. It must have genuine merit or no amount of advertising will maintain the demand for the article.

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy. From the very beginning the proprietors had so much confidence in it that they invited every one to test it.

It is a physician's prescription. They have on file thousands of unsolicited letters received from former sufferers who claim they are now enjoying good health as a result of its use.

However, if you wish first to try a sample bottle, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., enclose ten cents and mention this paper. They will promptly forward you a sample bottle by Parcel Post.

Regular sizes for sale at all druggists—Fifty cents and one dollar.

FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Theford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble."

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Theford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught.

Theford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

ment and opportunity in this direction, and that opportunity is offered by the vacant city lots, which remain unemptied, ignored alike by salaried health officers, boards of affairs and city councils—ever a standing menace to the health of the community as they are of redoubt of perfumes, and an eyesore to those who have some regard to the beauty of their surroundings.—Charles ton Daily Mail.

"Small, hot bullets give but little pain," writes a war correspondent. But ragged Ben Bosley of the New-Bull News insists that he is no patriot that would rather have a large, cold bullet than a small, hot bullet. He also decided that he is in favor of getting along without any pain at all, if possible.—Sattler, Ellsworth, Ia., News.

Kid gloves are going up, too. We have a perfectly good pair of white kid gloves which were worn at a K. of P. banquet about thirty years ago and will trade them for four pounds of cane sugar. As far as we are concerned, kid gloves can go sky high and stay up there, but for the love of Mike, don't elevate wheat cakes.—Rann, Manchester, Ill., Press.

WHAT NEW FRIENDS DO TO US.

David Grayson, author of "Adventures in Contentment," beginning his new novel, "Hempfield," in the December American Magazine, says:

"When we let new friends into our lives we become permanently enlarged and marvel that we could ever have lived in a smaller world."

Why is it that from 7 o'clock in the morning until 7 o'clock in the evening always seems so much longer than from 7 o'clock in the evening until 7 o'clock in the morning?

PREPARATION WAS AMPLE

Remarkable Forehandness of Germany For the Big World War.

New York.—Harvey D. Gibson, who as a representative of the Bankers Trust Company, went to Europe on the cruiser Tennessee, which carried $5,000,000 for refugees in the war zone, has written an interesting article for the Tyrrand, the monthly magazine published by the employees of the trust company, concerning his experience. One of the members of his party was stopped once as a spy; he visited Germany, learned something of that country's preparedness for war and some thing about the big howitzers used by the Germans.

When he arrived in Berlin, Gibson says, he found conditions on the surface just the same as when he was there two years ago. He received much information concerning the big steel guns used by the Germans.

"This leads up," he continues, "to a subject which I believe will be interesting, namely, the preparation that Germany had made for war, and the implements for warfare upon which she is depending."

Germany's main army has a fighting strength of upward of 5,000,000 men. For these when war started, Germany had on hand 2,000 rounds of small ammunition per man, in other words, ten thousand million rounds, and five complete uniforms per man, or over 25,000,000 uniforms. They had ready for service a field gun for each six bayonets, and for each of these had placed in reserve sufficient ammunition to wear the gun out. They were able to put at the front with very little delay over 50,000 motor vehicles. They have some sixty or seventy Zeppelins, which will certainly play an important part in the war in the future. For some time whenever a submarine has been built and launched a duplicate has been built and put in reserve. Practically every private motor truck built for a long time was built according to government specifications and subsidized."

Mr. Gibson concludes his article with a comparison of the military equipment of the United States and of the war nations. He believes that this country should be better prepared for war.

SORRY HE KICKED.

"Well, our ambassadors have helped out stranded tourists handsomely." "Yes, and it makes me ashamed of myself." "Why?" "I always kicked whenever a rich man was appointed to a post abroad."—Kansas City Journal.

THOUGHT SHE COULD NOT LIVE

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Unionville, Mo.—"I suffered from a female trouble and I got so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor without holding on to something. I had nervous spells and my fingers would cramp and my face would draw, and I could not speak, nor sleep to do any good, had no appetite, and everyone thought I would not live."

Some one advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had taken so much medicine and my doctor said he could do me no good so I told my husband he might get me a bottle and I would try it. By the time I had taken it I felt better. I continued its use, and now I am well and strong.

"I have always recommended your medicine ever since I was so wonderfully benefited by it and I hope this letter will be the means of saving some other poor woman from suffering."—Mrs. MARTHA SEAVEY, Box 1144, Unionville, Missouri.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as that above—they tell the truth, else they could not have obtained for love or money.

A girl would rather have corns than freckles because you can't see the corns. But a man will take the freckles because he knows you can't walk on them.

The New Tax Ordinance of the City Council Some Dead Letter and Won't Hold Water.

(Monday's Bulletin.)
The License Fee proposition is supposed to go into effect January 1, 1913, but judging from expressions from merchants and the howls from many other quarters, Mayor Lee and the Council will soon discover that the business men of this city will not submit quietly to the proposed license proposition.

Mr. Harry Robinson, local manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company, received the following communication from his superintendent that has been handed to Mayor Lee and no doubt will be read in Council at the December meeting:

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 17, 1914.
Mr. H. M. Robinson, Mgr., Maysville, Ky. Dear Sir: I have your letter of November 4th relative to the City Council of the City of Maysville meeting and imposing a license tax of $25 per year on the Western Union Telegraph Company. I would be glad if you would call on the City Council and state to them that such tax can not be imposed on the Telegraph Company, referring them to 228 Ky. L. Ref. 846—
Cumb. Tel. & Tel. Co. vs. Hopkins, 151
Ky. 241; 151 S. W. 639 Cumb. Tel. &
Tel. Co. Yours truly, J. R. Terhune, Dist. Com. Supt.

The above is only one example of the many complaints that are heard about the unpopular ordinance fixing fees for the purpose of raising sufficient money for running the city government when there are other methods that it is claimed would be more equitable, more just and the burden would be scarcely noticeable.

It is hoped Mayor Lee and Council will be able to devise other means of raising sufficient money to meet the demands made on the city without resorting to the license system.

HANDSOME GIFT TO MOONLIGHT SCHOOL FUND.

Colonel Thomas J. Winter, the jovial Court street gentleman, has opened the subscription for the moonlight schools by sending the ladies his check for $25, which has encouraged them very much.
Who else will help?

It is not the appraised value in money that makes your gift valuable in the eyes of worthy friends, but the thought you have put into it.

A photograph carries with it not only the outline of your face and form, but rekindles the memory of pleasant days and happy hours, and brings afresh to the mind the priceless boon of friendship.

GEN. LEONARD WOOD'S WARNING TO THE NATION.

The peaceful and neutralized little republic of Switzerland, with a total population of about equal to that of the town of New York, can put in the field on short notice an army of half a million trained fighting men.

With a population twenty-five times greater than that of Switzerland, the United States could command in an emergency a mobile force of less than 30,000 regulars and militia men, assuming the utmost possible as to the availability of the militia.

AN APPEAL TO THE MEN AND WOMEN OF MASON COUNTY

A number of Kentucky women are engaged in a work that was the inspiration of the woman who has given her life to the cause of education in Kentucky; a woman who has laid upon the altar of her state her youth, energy and all personal aspirations. The woman who has done so much to lift her state from the bondage of illiteracy is Mrs. Clara Wilson Stewart.
Through her efforts her native county of Rowan has reduced the number of illiterates from 1,300 to 23.

The women all over our loved state are fired with the determination to lift Kentucky from the third place from the bottom to the third place from the top.
This slogan, Kentucky Third
From the Top, Instead of Third
From the Bottom, was suggested by Mrs.
Mollie P. Pearce of Covington.

The women standing shoulder to shoulder in this noble work come today asking of the men of Maysville and Mason county the aid they only can give; they come under the banner of educational reform, of truth versus vice.
We plead for our boys and girls who are armed with strong brains and hearts ready to accomplish a greater Kentucky if we will only give them the opportunity. We plead for more education and fewer jails and penitentiaries;
more scholars and fewer criminals.

It is progressive statesmanship that realizes that the good of the state depends upon the mental and physical development of its people, and to the women of Mason county and Maysville we plead by the strongest plea that ever appeals to woman, motherhood. We ask the women who are surrounded by all the comforts and blessings of modern civilization to listen to the cries of their less fortunate sisters. Mothers with the trained vision of education to guard your precious children from the dangers of disease and vice, help your sisters who can not protect their children because of the darkened vision of ignorance. The blind can not lead the blind and these children that help comprise the 284,000 of our illiterates are doomed to grope their way through life because of mental blindness.

The teachers are unselfishly aiding in this great work at the expense of personal sacrifice. Will the women of this county withhold their aid, aid that in many instances requires no personal sacrifice?

Mrs. James Ross is superintendent of the geographical district that includes Mason county. Mrs. Gilmer Adams of Louisville is secretary-treasurer, and all funds given to buy equipment for the night schools and defray expenses of campaigns will be sent to her.

If our people will do their duty our illiteracy in Mason county, numbering nearly 1,200 persons, will vanish before our efforts like the mists before the morning sun, and men and women who today are languishing in ignorance, helplessness and despair will rise in new strength and help to make Kentucky the great commonwealth she ought to be.

The command, Give Ye Them to Eat, spoken by our Savior on the hallowed shore of the blue Galilee has come sounding down the ages with all the force and authority with which it was spoken 2,000 years ago.

21,976 FORDS SOLD IN SEPTEMBER

The Ford Motor Co. announces that in the month of September there were sold and delivered 21,976 Ford cars.
This was a gain of 11,470 cars over September 1913. This is significant not only because it shows that the Ford production is rapidly being increased to meet the stupendous influx of orders, but also because it demonstrates that the Ford Motor Company is maintaining the 300,000 car-schedule necessary to give Ford purchasers between August 1st, 1914 and August 1st, 1915, a share of Ford profits.

We have just received a car-load of the new 1915 models, and can give you immediate delivery. There's nothing to gain by waiting, so order now and enjoy your car this fall and winter.
